PAPALLACTA THERMAL SPRINGS

1 full day

Papallacta is a small town in Ecuador located at an altitude of 3,250 masl in the Andes near the Eastern Cordillera (Andean mountain range) leading to the Amazon rainforest.

The tourist route from Quito to Papallacta passes through several small towns and villages before ascending to a maximum of over 4,000 meters where mountains and glaciers are visible.

Papallacta is also known for its hot springs and its lagoon, where trout sport fishing takes place. From here, expeditions to the Antisana snow-capped mountain also depart.

It has a cold Andean climate due to its altitude (3,300 meters above sea level) and its proximity to the Antisana. It is surrounded by moorlands with a range of flora and fauna species, especially the Andean condor, the national bird.
